Cosmetics

How many approvals does a formula change go through?

In cosmetics manufacturing, changes to formulas, labels and product files go through approval by many teams. Butterfly manages these steps on record, in a single flow.

Change control	Version history	On-premises
for formulas and labels	on every document	deployment option

External approval

the manager approves the right version without entering the internal network

PROBLEM

The challenges facing your organization

01 Formula and label changes move through the emails of different teams.

02 It becomes unclear which version of the product file is valid.

03 Quality and filling records are gathered by hand before audits.

SOLUTION

How Butterfly solves it

Butterfly brings change control, document and approval processes together in a single layer that works alongside your existing systems. Every document version is kept on record, approvals move through defined roles, and an unbroken, audit-ready trail is created.

- ✓ Role-based approval and permissions
- ✓ Quality records together with their history
- ✓ No inbound connection opened in the firewall
- ✓ Contracts and documents in the same layer

OUTCOME

What changes with Butterfly?

One record	Audit ready	Nothing stuck
from formula to label	every step with its trail	it is clear who holds the approval
